

Tuwanna (33, F, Black)

A free-spirited and nonchalant individual, Tuwanna becomes a supportive character in the lives of both Nolan and Laurie. As an African American woman and the third sexual partner to Nolan and Laurie, she brings a fresh perspective and a sense of adventure to their dynamic. Tuwanna is Laurie's best friend and acts as her support system against Nolan's sometimes overbearing presence. With her carefree attitude and open-mindedness, Tuwanna injects an element of spontaneity into their lives. Tuwanna works as a flight attendant.

PJ (22, M, Black)

PJ is Nolan's son and a central figure in the complex web of relationships. As an African American man, he undergoes his own journey of self-discovery and acceptance. PJ openly admits to engaging in same-sex relationships on OnlyFans for financial gain, blurring the lines between intimacy and commerce. Complicating matters further, PJ reveals exploiting Carter sexually for financial gain, adding an additional layer of tension and emotional complexity to the series. PJ's experiences challenge societal expectations, explore the fluidity of sexual identity, and confront the consequences of past relationships.
